

PRINT PAGE

Conferences & Exhibitions
Oil & Gas

Deep Offshore Technology (DOT) Conference and Exhibition is dedicated to the advancement of the deepwater industry, and addresses the technical challenges to safely and cost-effectively developing deepwater reserves.

View Website

Deepwater DryTree Alternatives Forum and Exhibition takes an objective examination of the many variables that go into the choice of dry vs. wet trees and the broad range of consequences such a choice leads to. Key issues include the necessity for intervention, the water depth, the type of production (HP/HT), and the operators past experiences.

View Website

Deepwater Operations Forum is dedicated to discussing the critical issues facing deepwater production operations, and addresses the different aspects of operating production platforms in deepwater.

View Website

Flow Assurance Forum is dedicated to discussing the latest developments in flow assurance methods, equipment and best practices.

View Website

Global Energy Events PennWell's international conferences cover the upstream, midstream, and downstream petroleum industries, just like its world-class magazines. PennWell has numerous petroleum related events planned for 2004...high-quality international conferences and exhibitions that cut across a wide range of the upstream and midstream petroleum industry. PennWell events deliver the return on investment you expect.

View Website

High-Tech Wells USA Forum, Multilaterals, Intelligent Completions and Expandables (MIE)

is an open-forum event dedicated to the advancement of downhole technology, and addresses the technical and commercial challenges to drilling and completing wells using MIE (multilaterals, intelligent completions, expandables) technologies.

View Website

Managed Pressure Drilling Forum is an open-forum event dedicated to exploring the technical and operational advances of under balanced and near-balanced drilling techniques and equipment, and features case studies and reports on state-of-the-art technologies.

View Website

Multiphase Pumping & Technologies The multiphase nature of fluid streams produced from oil and gas wells and the fact that these streams change in volume and composition over time as reservoirs deplete has always presented a challenge for the industry. As companies are implementing novel methods for handling complex fluid streams, this conference will cover the latest progress in pumping, metering, separating, and analyzing multiphase streams, as well as the potential savings in capital and operating costs.

View Website

OGJ Russia Petroleum Technology Forum - The Oil and Gas Journal's 1st Annual Russia Petroleum Technology Forum (RPTF), PennWell's newest Conference and Exhibition in Russia is part of PennWell's continuing series of technical forums covering the global petroleum industry.

View Website

Offshore West Africa Conference and Exhibition is dedicated to the advancement of the West African offshore industry; and addresses capacity enhancement, as well as technical and commercial challenges to safely and cost-effectively developing reserves offshore West Africa.

View Website

Pipeline Rehabilitation and Maintenance Conference is a conference dedicated to addressing the latest developments in pipeline rehabilitation and maintenance.

View Website

Subsea Tieback Forum was developed to explore the latest technical and operational innovations in the area of subsea tiebacks. Topics include design, flow assurance and installation issues.

View Website